EARTH HOUR PHOENIX www.earthhour.org

On March 29, 2008, Phoenix residents will join millions of people around the world to "turn off the lights" for an hour from 8-9 p.m. to make a bold statement about climate change. Earth Hour will demonstrate that by working together, each one of us can make a positive impact on this global issue. Governments, business, communities and individuals on six continents will participate in Earth Hour and agree to make changes that will curb their carbon dioxide emissions.

In the United States, Phoenix has been selected as one of four U.S. Cities for Earth Hour, with Atlanta, Chicago and San Francisco joining the movement as well. Grassroots community groups, local businesses and committed individuals are also organizing Earth Hour events in their cities and towns.
